

OtterBox Offers Four Fab Case Options for Apple Addicts

Fort Collins, COLO. – OtterBox, innovators of protective solutions for today's hottest technologies, offers four fabulous case options for iPhone™ addicts. From everyday on-the-go cases to extreme protection, OtterBox has got Apple® technology covered!

Impact™ Series: It's sexy, it's sleek, it shields from everyday bumps and shocks – the OtterBox Impact Series provides a simple and stylish safeguard for the iPhone 3G and iPhone 3GS. With a durable skin-style exterior and inner coring to dissipate impact away from the iPhone, as well as an adhesive screen to protect from scratches and scuffs, users have the ideal amount of protection in a slim design. Available in black or white.*

Commuter™ Series: A hybrid between the semi-rugged Defender™ Series and skin-style Impact Series, the Commuter Series is trendsetting, eye-catching and a perfect accessory for the iPhone 3G and iPhone 3GS. This case displays a hard polycarbonate exterior and a tightly hugging silicone mid-layer to reinforce corners against bumps and shocks. Port plugs defend from dust, dirt and debris. Additional bundle kits are available for Commuter Series case users. Each kit includes a black Commuter Series case and two interchangeable hard-plastic color options, choose between three color kits: grey and red, white and green or yellow and blue.*

Commuter™ TL Series: Exclusively for the iPhone 3G and iPhone 3GS, the Commuter TL Series case provides three slender, yet sturdy layers of protection – a silicone skin, polycarbonate exterior and self-adhering screen cover. Incorporating all the benefits of a Commuter Series, the Commuter TL model also offers inner coring along the vertical sides for added protection, textured side grips for an ergonomic feel and a transparent polycarbonate shield to protect the cherished Apple logo. Available in seven vibrant colors – black, pink, red, green, yellow, white and blue—the Commuter TL offers protection and color customization to fit any personality.*

Defender Series: OtterBox's most popular and rugged case line, the Defender Series offers three layers of protection for iPhone devices. First, a thin, clear membrane covers the touch screen to prevent scratches. Second, a polycarbonate skeleton encases the device. Third, a silicone skin wraps around to absorb bumps and shocks. The OtterBox Defender Series case is custom fit to safeguard the iPhone against extreme lifestyles. Available in black, pink, white or black and yellow.
