Dear Friend,

Thank you for your generous gift of $3,000 to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Support from friends like you helped one of our doctors change the lives of a boy named Clinton and his family . . .

After being referred to St. Jude, our doctor told Clinton's parents, "You get in the car and come here. We'll take care of your son and we'll provide housing and food. Don't worry about money."

You see, 5-year-old Clinton was diagnosed with a rare and deadly brain tumor known as medulloblastoma last Thanksgiving. And his parents were terrified at the thought of losing their son.

So they searched high and low for the best place for their son's treatment, and that search led them to St. Jude.

His mom, who had learned how expensive cancer treatment could be, will never forget that memorable phone call. She remembers, "I can't tell you what a relief those four words were -- 'Don't worry about money.'"

She adds, "I owe it all to you. Kind friends like you who support St. Jude are the reason we don't have to worry about money. All we have to worry about is our son getting better."

And I'm so happy to report that Clinton is getting better -- he's responding to his treatments here at St. Jude, and his parents are over the moon.

His mom says, "I can't imagine my son being treated anywhere else in the world. The treatment he's receiving here at St. Jude wasn't available at the hospital back home. You make his care possible. Without you, I don't even want to think about where my son would be today. I could never thank you enough for helping Clinton live."

And I could never thank you enough either. God bless your good heart for helping our children live.

For the children,

Marlo Thomas

P.S. Please accept this collectible St. Jude ornament as a special gift of thanks from the parents of St. Jude children like Clinton. They could never thank you enough for all that you do to help their children.
