January 2012

Beginning in February 2012, TiVo THR22 will be launched nationally. This document discusses equipment compatibility with the TiVo HDDVR and the CCK-W.

- Never install a CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA) on a TiVo receiver. The TiVo box is not capable of running the setup for the CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA). Although you cannot install a CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA) on the TiVo receiver, if the home is MRV compatible and there are other advanced HD receivers in the network / home, you can install the CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA) as the primary broadband interface. In this scenario, the TiVo receiver will be able to access the Internet via the receiver DECA installed at the TiVo receiver.
- Where the home is MRV compatible: If there are no other advanced HD receivers in the network / home other than the TiVo, you will need to install a CCK (BB DECA) at the router and the required receiver DECA at the TiVo.
- Where the home is not MRV compatible: If there are no other advanced HD receivers in the network / home other than the TiVo, you will not be able to connect the TiVo to the Internet, unless you can connect the TiVo to the customer's router using a CAT5 Ethernet cable.

Matrix summary of information above:

Types of Broadband Capable receivers in Home (standard IRDs are not relevant)	SWIM	Non-SWIM
TiVo Unit(s) only	CCK (BB DECA) only	Direct connection from TiVo to the customer's router only. CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA) cannot be configured with TiVo units.
TiVo And HDDVRs	CCK (BB DECA) or CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA) – the HDDVR must be used to configure the CCK-W (WIFI BB DECA)

As a reminder, this table gives an at-a-glance summary of the TiVo Internet-connected features and functionalities when compared to the HR2x.
